BAY STATE NURSERIES

formerly

Bay State Nurseries & North Abington

Wyman's Framingham Nurseries & Framingham

For This Spring's Planting

"Better Gardens for 1931," our new descriptive handbook has been completed and is now ready to mail to our many friends and customers. We say with all modesty that few nursery catalogues, if any, list and describe so large a variety of choice hardy nursery stock — all of which is growing here in our own nurseries. This is especially true since our recent consolidation with Wyman's Framingham Nurseries of Framingham, Massachusetts.

This year as never before you will want to enjoy your garden and you will find "Better Gardens for 1931" of great interest. It contains descriptions of an unusual variety of evergreens, a complete assortment of the beautiful flowering shrubs — both common and rare types — and an abundance of hardy perennials.

This first new catalogue of the combined nurseries you will find much more interesting and informative than any issued in the past. It contains more illustrations and recommendations to help you in deciding upon the most suitable varieties for your needs. It includes a wealth of detailed description and valuable advice on handling, transplanting and arranging the various types of plant material. Briefly it is a larger, more interesting catalogue in every way, listing in detail all the beautiful things we grow. It is yours ready for the asking.

We will gladly forward a copy of "Better Gardens for 1931" to you or to any friends or neighbors you may have who are also interested and desire gardens and surroundings of distinction. Please use the mailing card and space provided below and receive your copies in time to plan for early spring planting.

It is most necessary to avoid error in mailing that we correct our mailing list each year.

Will you kindly fill in the attached postal and mail at once? No stamp is required.
